THE WEEKLY STAR

For to-day contains the usual amount of read ing matter. No paper published contains near as much interesting Washington News. To day's number of this journal contains a long and interesting description of the Washington Navy Yard, being the most full and complete ever before published. The Weekly Star is a large, well printed sheet, and only costs $1.25 a year.

SPIRIT OF THE MORNING PRESS The Intelligencer is out this morning against the Judiciary Reform bill, alleging that there has been no formal expression of public opintax on litigants. Now, we have to say that the only lack of formality in the act of taking age. the vote in 1850, on the question of judicial reform, arose from the determination of the authorities, who were benefited by the excresexemplified in that vote, proves, beyond the shadow of a doubt, the unexampled unanimichange. The Intelligencer says that, as far as its conductors are informed, the bill does not propose to decrease "the enormous tax imposed upon the community in the shape of judicial expenses." It is well that the editor tells us, in the same article, that he has not yet read the bill, teeming as that does with features designed to render the system as have to resort to it, as it is now shamefully, and, in many instances, shamelessly expensive. In an able article, the Intelligencer services of distinguished foreigners in our public affairs, naming, as among them, Alex-J. Dallas, Robert Morris, Lafayette, Montgomery, Moultrie, Mercer, DeKalb, Kosciosko, Pulaski, and Steuben ;-saying that "they were foreigners of the era when true Americanism was born."

The Hon. Mr. Banks gets the benefit of sevral "first rate notices" from the Union to day that journal being "down on him like a thou sand of brick." The editor makes a point upon Mr. B. decidedly, in quoting his speech of the last session, (see appendix to Congressional Globe, page 880, vol. 29,) wherein the honorable gentleman preaches doctrines ex actly cont rary to what is now the received popular idea of Know Nothingism.

NEW EDITION OF SHAKSPEARE. - The third and fourth numbers of this rich and elegant edition, frem the London Publishing and Printing Company, are before us, and with its usual number of embellishments of M. G. V. Brooke and others in characters representing the plays of the great bard of Avon. We understand it is the intention of the company to give a series of steel engravings in character of such eminent actors as Mr. Forrest, Booth, Macready, Adams and others which will be inserted in future numbers. We are happy to learn that by the enterprise of their agents, now in this city, the work has an extensive circulation, and will be much more sought for. As a work of art and excellence no gentleman's library is perfect without it. H Vesey, corner Ninth and D sts., is the agent.

A plan in one foot to establish a line of daily stages between St. Louis and San Francisco. The Company to carry out this project estimate that the route will have to be divided into 150 stations, twelve miles apart, with a stable and ten horses at each station, to cost about $57,500 monthly. They expect to run the distance in about twelve days.

Speaking about Mr. Collins recent talk ut sel ing the three United States, mail steamers which ply between New York and Liverpool, to some of the European powers, the Milwaukee Wisconsin says: "But it is a good sign to note that Commodore Vanderbilt is about to build a new line of steamships for the New York and English trade. Two are to be ready by spring, and two by the spring of 1856.

MIDDLETOWN SILVER MINES.—The Middletown (Conn.) News states that these mines have been sold for $125,000, to capitalists in England, who are preparing to send out a strong force of miners to prosecute the business on a grand scale. In the opinion of geologists the works are deemed valuable, and their worth will now, no doubt, be thoroughly tested

THE BURNS RENDITION AT BOSTON,-The sum of $13,115.78, received at Boston from the United States Government, has been distributed among the various military companies of that city for services rendered on the occasion of the rendition of the slave Anthony Burns.

Strikes are beginning once more to be the order of the day. One took place on last Thursday, on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroada strike against hours, not pay. This is rather a bad time to strike. Provisions are high, the weather cold, money is on a "bust," and but

have stopped work.

WASHINGTON NEWS AND GOSSIP. The District Judiciary Reform Bill.-We had barely time yesterday ere going to press to announce the passage, through the House, of this measure of so great importance to the interests of the people of the District of Columbia We can now assure the members of both Houses that we never witnessed a more joyful state of feeling in a community, than that which is being exhibited by our business fellow citizens, in all walks in life, over the prospect that the measure in question will become a law ere the termination of the present session. True, there are hundreds among us to whom this prespect is distasteful. But, for the most part, they are persons who are notoriously directly or indirectly profited by the civil disabilities under which the mass of their fellow citizens rest, owing to the heavily accumulated defects and embarrassments in our present judicial system. A great many of them are our personal friends and neighbors of a life time. Men against whose interest we are and shall be exceedingly loth to publish aught. But, in this case we have a duty to the community to perform, far above that to personal and dear friends and associates This District has been for the last quarter of a century far behind the rest of the American world in the matter of the laws under which justice is administered here and private rights enforced and protected Every real business man, in whatever calling engaged, who has had occasion to go into any District of Columbia court, in that time, has been injured to a greater or less degree by this state of things, which is not chargeable to the administrators of the law here, who execute the present system. perhaps quite as well as a system so jumbled, imperfect, and antiquated as ours, can be administered. It is notorious that the debtor here who will not pay, need not, however anxious our courts may be to make him, pay. It is notorious, too, that costs upon litigation here are enormously out-of-proportion high. It is notorious here that, at present, if our circuit court doubts-if he two judges are divided in any case where less than one thousand dollars are involvedone party or other loses his rights, the venerion here in favor of a change, and that the able and revered presiding judge being incabill in question does not propose to reduce the pacitated altogether from service by sickness, the result of a decay of his faculties through It is notorious, too, that our present system is a standing premium on efforts on the part of sinister justices of the peace and their officences of the present system, to prevent a cers to keep their neighbors in bot water; vote upon it if they could. They succeeded as in many cases the United States Treapartially. But the immense disproportion be- sury foots the bill of costs. We are tween the friends and opponents of reform, as far from charging such conduct on our Justices of the Peace, United States Police Officers and Constables, as a class. But there are we bety of popular sentiment here in favor of the lieve, fifty-two of the former, and the Lord throbbed almost unto breaking, and the wife, knows how many of the latter. As they are all human, some of them misuse their posi tion beyond doubt, it having been a standing such a scene before he became the cause, and allegation for at least thirty years past, that it might have served to save him from the dishere and there such officers in this District. were to be found, who thus abused their several trusts for what they might make by so doing. Congress must know that where a economical to those who may unfortunately single magistrate and constable, serving unier a system wherein they have so rich and sure a client as the United States Treasury to foot their bills, choose to lay their heads also advocates the bill for increasing the army. together to do a great deal of business, they The Union comments upon the value of the can make mischief enough to keep hundreds in misery, only that their profits may be swelled. Promoters of litigation in such positions are ander Hamilton, Albert Gallatin, Alexander notorious curses to society, the world over, and we are most anxious, for the well being of this community, that the great incentive to their existence here may be removed, as the bill in question proposes to remove them.

> But our limits will not permit us to pursue this subject further to-day. We may however, in a single additional sentence, ask honorable Senators to converse freely with unobtrusive business citizens of the District upon this subject, and they will learn that nine in every ten to whom they may broach it, are most earnestly anxious for the change proposed.

> Be Cautious .- It is a violation of law, and subjects the offender to a penalty of five dollars, if the receiver refuses to pay letter postage, to inclose or conceal a letter or other thing, (except bills and receipts for subscription) or to make any memorandum in writing or to print any word or communication, after its publication, upon any newspaper, pamphlet, magazine, book, or other printed matter. Any memorandum in writing, or by marks or signs upon the cover or wrapper, of any arti. cle of printed matter, other than the name and address of the person to whom it is to be sent, subjects the package to letter postage. So do the words, "With respects of the author. or sender," &c., often written upon the blank leaves of books, under the impression by many that simple compliments of this kind may be thus transmitted through the mail without subjecting the packet to additional

An Escaped Convict .- A telegraphic dispatch has reached us from New Orleans, conveying, briefly, intelligence of the escape of Major W. H. Wilder, a former member of the Louisiana Legislature, and also a member of the last Baltimore National Democratic Convention, who had been convicted of several frauds on the Pension Office. He was in the hands of a United States deputy marshal, through whose gross negligence or connivance | Kinney, and the men who propose to go there | public patronage, feeling assured of his ability to the escape occurred.

A Misprint.—The types, yesterday, made us state the amount of Government stocks redeemed at the Treasury, in the course of the week, at eight millions, instead of eight hundred thousand dollars. This occurred by the mere addition of nothing- 0.

In the House, yesterday, after we went to press, the bill to reorganize the Courts of the in substituting inferior coal for better kinds, District of Columbia, and to reform and improve the laws thereof, was passed-yeas 113.

Mr. Orr made sundry adverse reports from the Indian Affairs Committee, on private claims-all of which were laid on the table. And, then, after referring sundry private bills from the Senate, which were on the Speaker's table, they went into committee on the private calendar, and a bill for the relief of the legal representatives of Col. John H. Stone was laid aside to be favorably reported on, and a bill for the relief of the legal representatives of Col. Francis Vigo was laid as.de to be unfavorably reported upon

The committee then rose, and the House passed the bill for the relief of the legal repesentatives of Col. John H. Stone, and reject. ed that for the legal representatives of Colonel Holidays, &c.—Preparations for Christmas —Conviction of Martin—Touching Scene in Court-The Railroad Strike, Sc. - Fairs -The City Council-Supposed Appointment-Amusements, &c.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 22, 1854. "Coming events cast their shadows before them''-so does Christmas. The evidences of its approach are palpable everywhere. Our shops, fancy stores, &c., are all overloaded with articles suitable to the occasion. Balti more street, especially, presents a gay scene The show windows are filled with all sorts of notions and beautiful articles suitable for gifus. Among the book-men, none surpass Mr. Taylor, agent of the Star, Sun Iron Building. He has a superb assortment, and is crowded with customers. None better deserves a liberal patronage Our jewelers, including Messrs. Canfield, Campbell, Clark, Brown Gould, and others, are also doing quite a flourishing business. The hard times, however and scarcity of money, may operate somewhat against this kind of trade, and disappoint not a few who were in anxious anticipation of presents. The juvenile legion is out in full force Their bright eyes sparkle with delight as they think of the joyous old holiday with its budget of joys. Would that I were a boy again to mingle in its haloyon delights Poor turkeys, or, more properly speaking, fat ones. have to pay the roast. Our markets are lined with their slaughtered carcasses. It is not unfrequently the case that the occasion which brings gladness and pleasure to one portion of animated matter is fraught with misery and

William H Martin, charged with robbing the Baltimore Post Office, has been found guilty of that offence by a jury of his country The penalty is not less than ten nor more than twenty years imprisonment in the Penitentiary. His counsel have moved for an arrest of judgment, in hope of obtaining a new trial. Quite an exciting scene took place in the court room this afternoon when the verdict was being rendered His young wife, sister, and poor old mother were present. The shock was too great, and they sank under it. Every characteristic of woman's deep affection, clung to the condemned husband unto the last Would that the accused could have realized grace, and his friends from untold anguish.

He still protests his innocence. It seems that the American has misrepresented the recent strike of persons employed on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. No attempt had been made by the company to reduce their wages. The sole object was to equalize matters, to regulate the time of working, and so systematize affairs as to bring all upon an equal footing, as well for the benefit of the employees as for the employers. It was only those engaged en the transportation trains who struck Many of them have gone back again and resumed work, subject to the rules laid down by the company. These are unpropitious times for laborers, those who are obtaining even fair wages, to run the hazard of a strike, and in no instance would they be safe in so doing except where their services cannot possibly be done without, as in the case of railroads.

I learn that since the recent general convention of the several railroad companies. there has been an understanding, then enter ed into between them, to oppose all strikes, and in no case to give employment to persons who have aided in such movements. Perhaps the present want of employment, hard times, &c., among mechanics, is owing somewhat to the numerous strikes. The laws of mechanical operations, like every thing else will find a

We have had a week of fairs. The ladies those ministering angels of mercy, have been hourly engaged raising material, and I learn they have succeeded admirably.

Our City Council is still squabbling over the water question. One branch amuses itself by annulling what the other does, and both seem to be fighting against the Mayor. There are several fat offices connected with this question, and the strife seems to be whether the Council shall reserve to itself the appointing power or ward it to the executive.

There is now scarcely a doubt that Brantz Mayer will be one of the commissioners in the McDonough bequest.

Forrest is playing to tremendous houses at the Front Street. His acting is unsurpassed. The Holliday, Charles Street, and the Museum, are all doing well. The Kunkels, however, seem to eclipse the whole in point of fun They have overflowing audiences. BEN BOLT.
